Introduction To Video Marketing

The easiest way to sharply penetrate your market and get people excited about your offer is through video marketing campaigns - one of the most profitable ways to take your business to the next level!

- ✔ Not only video marketing can powerfully propel your viewers into taking action, but you can quickly establish a defined brand of your own.
- ✔ Videos add more life! They transform static campaigns into action-driven presentations that unleash our message in a powerful, dramatic way.
- ✔ Videos give you the unique opportunity to communicate with your target audience in a way that puts you in touch with what is truly important to them, what motivates them, and what will leave an everlasting impression.
- ✔ Videos also help to increase the value of your products, and even your brand. If you are into information marketing, you can instantly ramp up the perceived value of your products by adding in video based components.
- ✔ People often learn better when they are given a visual as to their tasks and the end result, and creating dynamic video lessons or tutorials will instantly increase conversion rates, and skyrocket your income.

So, now that you know how important high quality video presentations are to your marketing message. Now, Let's take a closer look at how you can develop laser targeted video campaigns that speak your customer's language. After all, not all videos are created equally.

Creating High Quality Videos

Think of the impact, if you were able to personally welcome people to your website, to guide them through your information and direct them to your order button. Imagine what that would do for your conversion rates.

Well, with videos - you can do that more!

Use of videos are only left to your imagination! Use it in sales pitches, in tutorials, within your launch sequence to warm up customers or to simply develop brand awareness. The more often people see you or hear you, the faster they'll recognize your brand on the spot.

The trouble is, many new entrepreneurs struggle with the technical aspects of creating high quality videos. They aren't sure what programs to use, how to edit videos, how to enhance the quality, or even how to create scripts or motions that guide viewers from one frame to another.

Retaining your viewers' attention every step of the way is crucial.

But there is great news! Technology has so much advanced that even if you have absolutely no experience creating videos, there are tools and resources you can use to develop high quality, interactive videos in a matter of a few minutes.

Now, if you want a totally hands-free, turn-key job, I'm going to show you how to not only simplify the process of creating videos but also how to automate even the distribution of your created videos!

There are two secret weapons online that will give you the opportunity to develop dozens of high quality videos in a matter of minutes.

These two resources make it very easy to get more of your videos out into the market super fast with absolutely no training or experience, instantly eliminating the learning curve.

Here Are The Two Resources:

www.stingervideos.com: You can instantly create hot marketing videos for your products. Just fill up answers to a few simple questions about your product and based on it the software automatically creates a killer marketing video. All with stunning 3D animation and sound effects! It's not a template video, but rather your whole unique video is created on the fly based on your answers. That means, no two videos ever look alike! The completed videos are instantly distributed to video sharing sites for free too.

Some of the video types you can create are:

- ➡ Promotional Videos
- ➡ Product Intro Videos
- ➡ Product Comparison Videos
- ➡ Secret Report Videos
- ➡ Affiliate Bonuses Offer Videos
- ➡ How To Do Something Videos
- ➡ Product Alternative Videos
- ➡ Review Guide Videos
- ➡ Coupon Codes Videos
- ➡ Product Launch Videos

Let's move on to some other software tools that helps you create videos...

The majority of new computers come bundled with video production software already, but if you really want to ramp up the quality of your videos however, you'll want to consider purchasing an industry grade program, such as Camtasia or CamStudio.

These programs will help to add functionality to your videos, while making it easy for you to integrate sound (audio narratives, music, etc), as well as highlight important notes, and of course, they provide you with added flexibility with editing video content.

If you simply aren't ready to develop your own videos, consider outsourcing the project to a qualified video developer.

There are plenty of places to seek out some help, including marketing forums such as <http://forums.digitalpoint.com> and <http://www.WarriorForum.com> , or you can place a listing requesting help via the freelance marketplaces, including <http://www.Guru.com> and <http://www.eLance.com>

Distributing Your Videos

Once you have a series of hot videos in your arsenal, it's time to distribute them to the world! Once you unleash your videos, you'll begin to see traffic coming in very quickly, as these video community sites and media hot spots are filled with new visitors every single day.

The leader in video marketplaces is www.YouTube.com so it's important that you include it in all of your video marketing campaigns, however there are many other places where you should focus on getting your video circulated, including:

<http://video.search.yahoo.com/>

<http://video.google.com/>

<http://www.Break.com>

<http://www.Revver.com>

<http://www.DailyMotion.com>

<http://www.MetaCafe.com>

<http://www.Veoh.com>

Distributing is very easy, but you'll need to create an account with each video site before you can upload your video.

Also keep in mind that many of these video networks will manually review and approve your video before it's published, so it might take a few hours before all of your videos are online.

You can automate the process by signing up for an account with Tube Mogul at <http://www.TubeMogul.com> , an online video distribution service that will push your video message out to hundreds of popular video communities.

Enhancing Your Video Response Rate

Videos are used to compel viewers into taking action. You want to invoke a positive response from your viewers, but you also want them to take action immediately after watching your broadcast.

One way of doing this is by including a direct link to your website or squeeze page at the end of the video, highlighting the benefits of visiting your website. Keep in mind that you still need to use a direct call to action, even in videos, so don't forget to spend time crafting the most action-driven call to action possible.

If you want your video to go viral, make sure that you add a "Tell a Friend" link to the video, and that you work in 'entertainment value'. Your video needs to really stand out in the video community and motivate viewers to send it to their friends, and share it with everyone they know.

You can do this easily by creating a video that adds comic influence, entertains the viewer, shocks the viewer or offers a unique perspective that differs from the majority of other videos in the same market.

Controversy is one of the easiest ways to drive eyeballs to your videos, but make sure that your video works directly towards building a positive brand stature. You don't want to create videos that leave viewers entertained but finding it difficult to trust you.

Professional but Entertaining - that's what it's all about.

Before you distribute your videos, you want to make sure that the quality and size is optimized and that is viewable on all operating systems.

You also want to optimize the actual video features, including keywords and tags so that when your video is distributed, it's able to grab ranking in the search engines based on your primary phrases and keywords.

Keywords also help viewers find your video, both through on-site searches and directly through the search engines, so conduct quick keyword research to determine what the most important keywords for your niche are, and include them in the tags associated with your video.

For example, when uploading a video to YouTube.com, you are able to assign different keywords to your video, which highlight what your video is about, and help YouTube to properly organize your video in their database.

You can take this a step further by optimizing your video's title tags, to also include relevant keywords, while varying the keywords you use for each video.

It's important that you are able to rank for multiple keyword phrases, so never assign the exact same keywords to all of your videos, but instead, vary it up!

You can often enhance your videos search engine optimization by using anchor text when linking to your video page, as well as within the description.

Again, anchor text should include relevant keywords that vary from the keywords used in the actual title or tags.

After reading this report, I'm sure you will take away a few ideas on video creation and marketing. Creating a few videos and uploading them will certainly give you a distinct advantage over the rest of the Internet marketing crowd.

The most important thing you must remember is this – speed is the key!

Don't be like most people.

Make sure you take action and get started immediately and get ready to EXPLODE your traffic with videos!
